

Angola: Strong relationship key to efficiently run projects

Flexible planning and special vessel capabilities deliver multi-million dollar savings

Maersk Supply Service has supported CABGOC (Chevron Angola) for approximately 10 years, assisting with a wide range of projects. What started as an anchor-handling operation grew quickly into a strong partnership between Maersk Supply Service and CABGOC covering many different projects, including:

- Scale squeeze operations
- Xmas tree installations
- Jumper installation
- SEPLA anchor installation
- General anchor handling and supply duties

Why Maersk Supply Service?

- On several occasions savings were made possible by the flexible planning and teamwork of the two parties as well as the special capabilities of Maersk Supply Service's AHTS vessel and its very large anchor-handling winch.

The customer advantage

- On one project in particular we devised a solution to lay coiled tubing, which saved CABGOC eight months of delay and millions of dollars in extra costs
